Other Updates:

- This quarter PIONEER has been preparing a short animation piece for placing on the website that will support the 'Your data could save lives' campaign. The animation has been created to allow patients and the public the opportunity to visually see the importance of allowing health data to be securely shared with researchers, etc. to help save lives. The animation when completed will be share with members of the Data Trust Committee for their review and comments before being shared on the PIONEER website and via social media.

- An initial draft of a user-friendly guide to completing the Data Request Form has been created. This will both detail what the Data Trust Committee are looking for to support their recommendations, as well as providing requestors with a guide to completing a Data Request form. The final draft of the guide will be share with members of the Data Trust Committee for their review and comment.
